

Medical Quality Development Engineer

Hudson Technologies is seeking individuals who are passionate about creating or broadening a career with an innovative company. Hudson Technologies offers a dynamic working environment where all team members are valued and rewarded accordingly. More information about our company is available at www.hudson-technologies.com.

To support our business, we are seeking a Medical Quality Development Engineer who develops and implements the quality programs, policies and systems of Hudson Technologies' medical business and excels at the following:

- Establishing, communicating, and maintaining customers' quality expectations
- Coordinating/leading APQP efforts to improve manufacturability and customer satisfaction
- Participating in Program Management activities
- Developing, reviewing, and approving control plans
- Leading Six Sigma projects
- Implementing SPC methods of in-process inspection
- Reviewing and approving control plans
- Coordinating corrective actions
- Coordinating Cost of Quality improvement efforts
- Facilitating ISO procedures
- Compiling and maintaining project records
- Managing internal PPAP/FAI
- Leading problem solving
- Supporting operations
- Facilitating the design, build and certification of gauges

Education Requirements:

BA or BS in Engineering or technical discipline or equivalent experience preferred. ASQ Certification preferred. GD&T training preferred.

Technical Experience:

Experience with APQP, FMEA, SPC, GD&T and Control Plans.

Technical Competencies:

Fact based problem solving; effective writing skills, ability to analyze issues, process evaluation skills, ability to use statistical tools and workflow analysis, understands the use and maintenance of metrology tools.

Hudson Technologies offers a competitive salary and benefit package including:

- Medical/dental/life insurance
- Performance bonus
- 401(k)
- Company funded retirement contribution plan
- Holiday pay
- Paid time off
- Tuition reimbursement
- Wellness plan

Qualified candidates should send a resume with salary history to:

Pamela Price, Human Resources Manager
1327 North US Highway 1
Ormond Beach, FL 32174
FAX: 386-615-7104

or

www.hudson-technologies.com

EOE